Comments from 2nd group meetings

Some of the groups offered comments on their discussions.

We will always make it through volatile events.

God is reliable and faithful.

I think this program is helping prepare us the unknown in the future.

Together we can accomplish great things.

It is great to know that your thoughts about your individual faith are shared by others.

I am encouraged with how our church has handled the pandemic and how church has been made possible.

Being together has been a source of power and strength- it is great that 152 people are participating.

Our discussion group is becoming closer, developing a family

Community is vital

Wondering about the need for this study
